

opendesk

Linnea Bookshelf

The Linnea Bookshelf is a lightweight, elegant shelving system which takes inspiration from traditional joinery. With clever joints and compression fittings, the bookshelf is strong without the need for unsightly nuts and bolts.

Each shelf measures W-457mm, H-350mm, D-350mm, so there's plenty storage room for files, books, and general studio clutter. The open shelving and slim profile of Linnea make it perfect for displaying treasured ornaments, awards, and pictures. Each horizontal shelf extends slightly beyond the vertical supports, providing a small perch onto which lights or even plants can be hung.

Linnea is large with ample storage room but is deceptively lightweight. Made from 12mm thick high-quality Birch Plywood, the Bookshelf can be assembled and moved with ease.

Designed and shared openly by:

Sam Devenport

Pia Narula

Materials

All Opendesks are made from quality, FSC-certified baltic plywood. Coming from managed forestry it's good to know your desk was sustainably grown.

License

CC BY-NC

Lets others use and build on your design non-commercially, as long as they credit you.

Under the following terms: <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc/4.0/>

Pricing

Get quotes directly from makers near you:

- * Request and receive quotes (typically within 48 hours)
 - * Choose your preferred maker-quote and pay online
 - * Receive your locally-made furniture direct from the maker
-

Designers

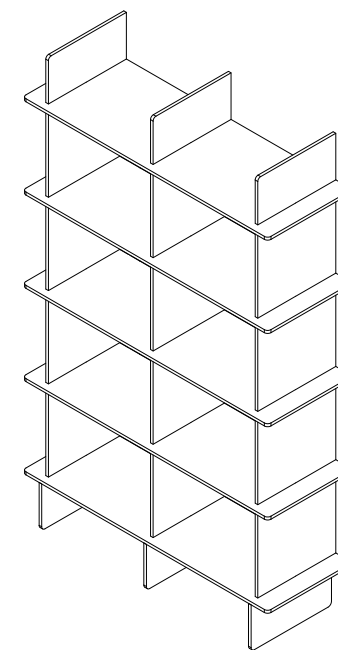

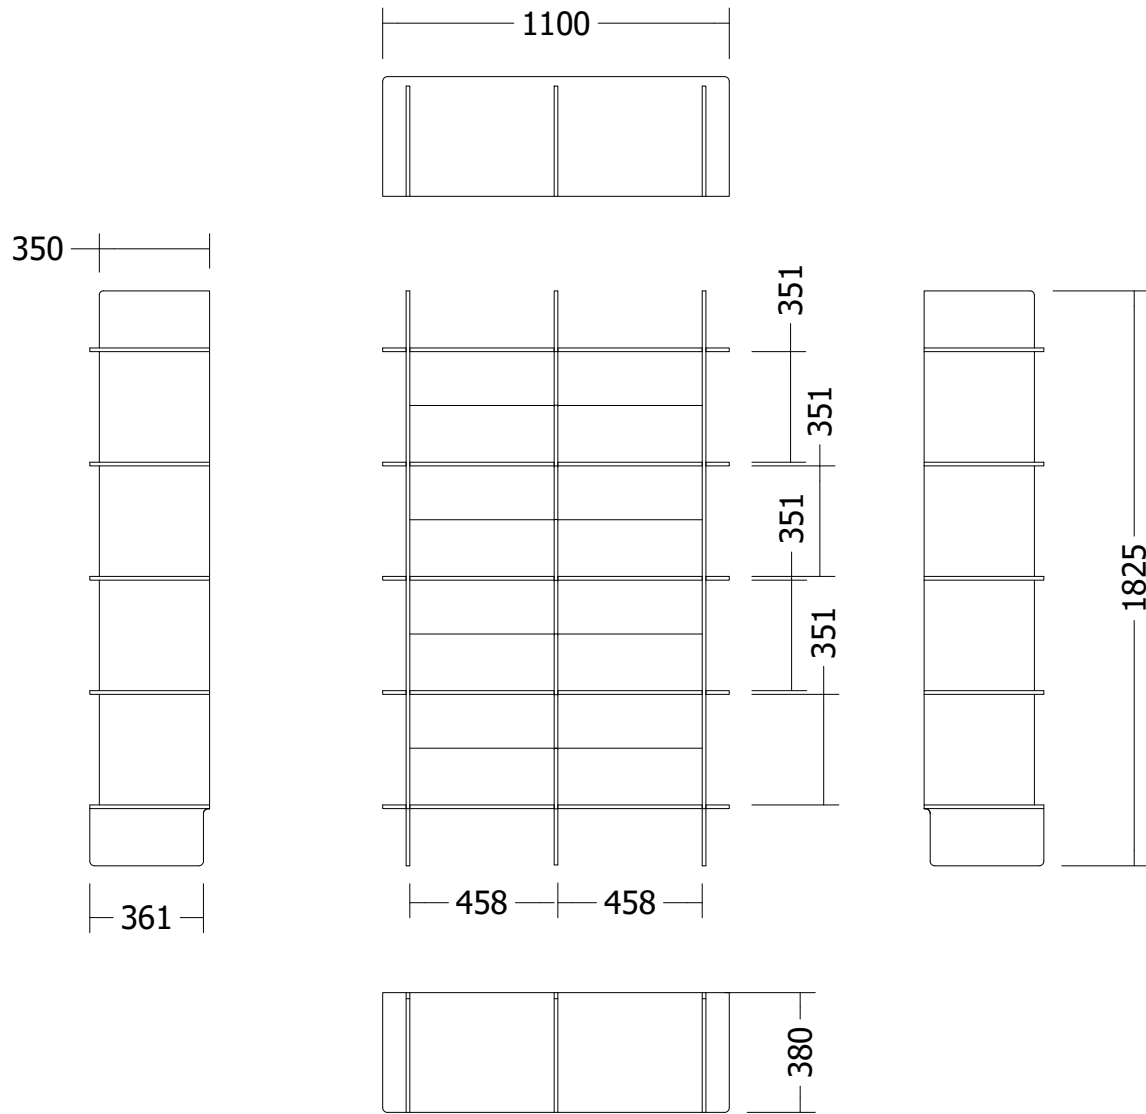

Designed and shared openly by:

Sam Devenport

Pia Narula

Sam is a Chicago native who began his career in labour advocacy before shifting into design and manufacturing. Sam is the co-founder of 57st. design; a vertically-integrated, contemporary furniture brand based out of Chicago. Sam's work, along with his co-founder Pia Narula, emphasises simplicity of form and a considered approach to material, construction and manufacturing.

Pia spent time in India, Bahrain and England when she was growing up, before graduating from the University of Chicago. She is the co-founder of 57st. design; a vertically-integrated, contemporary furniture brand based out of Chicago. Pia's work, along with her co-founder Sam Devenport, emphasises simplicity of form and a considered approach to material, construction and manufacturing. Pia believes that good design is ethical-both socially and economically sustainable.

Linnea Bookshelf

57 STREET DESIGN

Designed by 57 Street Design

PRODUCT CODE: FSS_LBK_STD_3880x1100x1825_SA
 DRAWING: Product General Arrangement
 SCALE: 1/24
 PUBLISH DATE: 17 / 05 / 2017
 PRODUCT VERSION: V1.0.0